Best of luck to a swell person.

John, Hasnt it been fun. I hope I will be lucky enough to have
you in one of my classes
next year. You are really a nice boy. Even if you do make me mad sometimes - I hope by next
year will be going steady.
I would like to buy some
of "what" you have been selling
(~~what~~). I hope you succeed in all that you attempt to do.
Always
Beulah

Hi John,
It's really been great knowing you
this year - you've been a lot of company
for me on "lonely nights and listening to all of my troubles." I think you're a swell boy and have a wonderful personality - "Bless your stupid laugh"
I sure hope you come to N.H.N.S.
next year - if you don't we'll all miss you. Be Good and try to stay out of trouble (if possible.)

See ya around!
A friend (Frances

Foreword

1953 and 1954 has been a year of construction at New Hanover High School. This year, the foundations were laid for a new addition to our school: a combination gymnasium and auditorium, twenty-four classrooms and a student union. As the year progressed, we avidly watched our new building grow and grow.

New Hanover High School

Present and Future

This structure of steel and concrete paralleled our own development of sound minds and strong characters. The new addition neared completion, but we knew that we had only built a foundation which we would add to for the rest of our lives. We shall always be grateful to NHHS for paving our way to a promising future.

To our principal

Mr. Dale K. Spencer

For his ready smile and friendly "hello" to faculty and students alike . . .

For always being on the spot to keep our school running as smoothly as clockwork . . .

For assisting and advising us on our problems, large or small, and guiding us in the right ways of life . . .

For his wisdom, dependability, and resourcefulness as a man whom we all admire, and whose example we could well follow . . .

We dedicate this book

Seniors at last! Here Bette Jean Lewis, Billy Aman, Miriam Hickman, George Autry, Pat Tickner, Ernest Anderson, Bob Buck, Lynn Shannon, Bob Godley, and Barbara Pace enjoy the privilege of using the Senior Steps.

How proud we are of our cafeteria! Here Carol Lynn Young, Mary Ann Oosterwyk, Frances Thompson, and Sylvia Bumgardner are enjoying the good lunches obtained there.

Taking part in the traditional lowering of the flag after school, are Linwood Ives, Holmes Davis, and Walter King. The flag is raised before school and lowered each afternoon by members of the ROTC.

HANOVER

Between classes Ronnie Brown and Sue Walton stop at their lockers to get books for their next class. Lockers, which contain everything from pencils to coathangers, are favorite gathering places for students.

Science exhibits, history exhibits, art exhibits . . . Here Patty Register, Josephine Debnam and Margaret Head decorate Miss Formy Duval's Room for a Christmas exhibit while she watches.

Algebra students William Bul-lard, Hugh Lietzey, Bill Davis, and Dottie Conner enjoy class participation at the blackboard.

Frances Youngblood, Edna Lee Lennon, and Freida Stanley check out books from Miss Crom-artie and Mary Neale. Our well stocked library offers reading pleasure for every student.

IAN...1954

Pencils, paper—everything for the student can be purchased at the Nick-Nack. Here Wilbur Taylor and Tommy Cook buy their school supplies from Don Frost and Carol Doxey.

Clickety-clack go the typewriter keys on the third floor of I.B. Here Joanne Kerr and Alex Thompson peck away on a time writing.

HANOVER

Industrial arts offers interesting work for many boys. Here Allan Lucas polishes a beautiful table in the shop.

George Autry, Mary Alice Raulerson, Emily Gilbert, and Oscar Grant enjoy dancing at the ROTC Ball. This dance is a high spot in the school year.

After school Mixed Chorus students Karen Kurka, Larry Bullard, Emily Gilbert, David Tousignant, and Woodruff Allen harmonize on their numbers with Mr. Taylor.

Transfer students Merry Brown, Libby Beck, and Jack Fulghum register and check the curriculum with Miss Montgomery in the office.

AN...1954

Our home economics courses offer much practice and information for girls learning to sew and cook. Here Linda Ramsaur and Sylvia Schutt mix batter for cookies.

Chemists Mary Ann and Allene Keith confer with Mr. Bellamy about the procedure for distilling water.

MR. DALE K. SPENCER

A big, wide smile always accompanies our principal everywhere he goes. His deep sincerity and friendliness to students as well as faculty make him respected and looked up to by all. He is always willing to assist and advise—never fails when he is called upon.

ADMINIS

MR. H. J. MCGEE

Although this has been Mr. McGee's first year at NHHS, we feel that he has become indispensable as assistant principal. Whether we are interested in guidance for colleges and vocations, personal aptitude tests, advice on extra-curricular activities, or any of a thousand things, we can depend on Mr. McGee for wise counsel.

MISS ELIZABETH MONTGOMERY

Friendly Miss Montgomery, who works diligently from eight-thirty to bedtime can always be found showing new students how to find their way, straightening file cards of old students, or typing busily. This is our registrar. What would we do without her?

At last seniors! Yes, they had reached the top! After three years of hard study, they gleefully exercised many privileges, among them the use of the senior steps. Some applied for college entrance and sought scholarships; others prepared themselves by on-the-job training. Attired in their caps and gowns, they received their diplomas with thoughts turning to memories of the past and dreams of the future.

Student Congress

The Student Government is one of the most outstanding and important organizations of our school. All school activities evolve about it. Through this organization we are endowed with a true democratic spirit, and enabled to promote closer student-faculty co-operation.

The organization is, within itself, a number of departments which strive to fulfill all duties and obligations successfully.

Most important of all departments, the Executive Council is an absolute necessity in the administration of the student legislature. Ten members compose the Council, which is headed by the president of the student body.

Next in importance is the Senate, composed of six members from, and the presidents of, each class.

Working closely with the Senate, the House of Representatives is the true voice of the students. The House is made up of one representative from each homeroom.

The Judiciary system of judges and judicial marshals stands ready to protect and enforce all measures deemed wise by the student legislature. The safety of the student body in general is heightened by the successful administration of this department.

Composed of two members from each house, the Co-ordinating Committee is the combat arena for all unwise bills. Many unwary pieces of legislation have met their deaths in the debating sessions of this committee.

On the lighter side of Student Government, one may find the Social Marshals, who are always on hand whenever there is a social affair in the offing.

Each of these bodies works smoothly and efficiently with every other one to establish the precedent of general awareness and unceasing labor. With each new administration, more goals are set, more milestones passed, always with the ideal of establishing a government of the students, by the students, and for the students.

GOVERNMENT CLUBS

"I pledge Allegiance to the flag of the United States of America" is a phrase familiar to every member of a government club, for, as the first words of the Pledge to the United States' Flag, it frequently opened the meetings of the various clubs. During the business sessions, students displayed a knowledge of the correct use of parliamentary procedure through such remarks as: "Mr. Chairman, I move the previous question." Following the short business sessions, very interesting programs with guest speakers, movies, or tape recordings were given. The two highlights of the year were Student Government Day, when the government students took over the duties of the city officials, and the annual spring trip to Washington, D. C., where the students saw the shrines of our National Government. Because of the knowledge that the students have obtained through their government clubs, they are better prepared to meet the responsibilities of every American citizen.

... 1954

We are proud of our high school band. It was directed this year by Dr. Fred Bouknight. The band was always on hand to provide the student body with spirited music. We could depend on them at the football games. They always gave top performances at every place.

Our band is one of the oldest organizations in New Hanover High School. The band has represented our school at many places in the state during the school year.

RESERVE OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS

The New Hanover High School Division Reserve Officers Training Corps was established in 1937. The United States Government furnishes equipment and uniforms, and administration of the corps.

To be enrolled in the ROTC program, a student must be in the Sophomore class in high school, be at least fourteen, and meet specific physical conditions.

Honor schools throughout the country are determined by means of annual Federal Inspection. The Corps at New Hanover High has had the distinction of being an Honor Unit for many years.

Sponsors for the battalion and the four companies are elected annually by the cadets from the girls in the Senior Class.

Each year the ROTC Battalion has at least one ROTC Ball, usually held in December. This ball has as its main attraction the presentation of the officers.

Wherever the Wildcats competed, the enthusiasm of New Hanover High School was there to back them. In Football, basketball, and baseball; in golf, tennis, and swimming, they proved themselves well-trained and capable. Always they kept the principles of clean sportsmanship uppermost in their minds.

The cheerleaders were on hand to spark the yells and songs of team supporters. Led by Roxanna Mebane, they created spirit wherever they led yells—at pep rallies, football games, and basketball games. They decorated the home game goal posts and honored the Varsity Sweetheart at the Football Finals Dance. Cheerleaders, players, and spectators made it a memorable year.

Have had a good bit of fun in spawville this year. See you at the beach.

Adios Pierre
